

Copyright Transfer Agreement (CTA) for Editorial Content

Dear Submitting Author (the "Author"):

Thank you for preparing this editorial content (the "Contribution") for this journal (the "Journal"), which is published by Wiley on behalf of the owner of the Journal, which owner could be Wiley and/or a society partner (the "Owner"). In order to expedite the editing and publishing process and enable Wiley to disseminate your Contribution to the fullest extent, we need to have this Copyright Transfer Agreement (the "Agreement") executed. If there are any co-authors of the Contribution ("Co-author"), you must obtain each Co-author's consent to the terms of this Agreement (including the rights granted to Owner) and obtain their signed written permission to execute this Agreement on behalf of the Co-author(s), and you must provide the written permission on request by the Owner or Wiley (where Wiley is not the Owner). If there are no such Co-authors, terms related to Co-author(s) in this Agreement do not apply. If the Contribution is not accepted for publication, or if the Contribution is subsequently rejected before publication, this Agreement will be null and void. Submission of your Contribution cannot proceed without you accepting the terms of this Agreement on behalf of yourself and each Co-Author.

For good and valuable consideration, including the publishing services rendered by Wiley and the mutual covenants and agreements herein, the parties agree as follows:

A. COPYRIGHT; COPYRIGHT NOTICE; AUTHORSHIP; PUBLICATION

(ii) to exercise any of the rights respecting the Contribution that are set forth in (i) for the following: (a) to create databases or datasets for all purposes and to copy and/or technically modify into a database or dataset; (b) for machine learning, building, developing, and/or training neural networks or other machine learning algorithms and techniques in order to build artificial intelligence ("AI") systems and models, including, generative AI applications and models (each a "Model"); (c) for the development, training, and/or fine-tuning of each Model, including, as part of an inference and/or retrieval augmented generation process; (d) for prompts, output, and/or other functions specific to generative AI, including, to combine all or parts with other works and/or AI output; (e) for unrestricted text and data mining; (f) and the right to declare a reservation regarding text and data mining to make available any Model, AI output, or other result of the use cases described under (a)-(e) to the public including to individuals for access, in part or in whole, from a place and at a time of their choice; and/or (g) the creation of commercial products based on the use cases described in (ii)(a)-(e) (hereinafter, "Products") and the unlimited exploitation of such Products according to (i);

(iii) to license, sublicense, or otherwise authorize or grant permission to others to exercise, the rights set forth in (i) and (ii); and (iv) to assign and transfer the rights granted hereunder.

For the avoidance of doubt, where an assignment of copyright is not permitted under applicable law, the Author and each Co-Author agree that the above grant of rights will be interpreted as an exclusive license in favor of the Owner.

2. If any material contained in the Contribution is the output of Artificial Intelligence Generated Content (AIGC) tools, (a) such tools do not fulfil the role of, nor can they be listed as, an author of Contribution, (b) Author or Co-author will describe its use, transparently and in detail, in the methods, acknowledgement, or equivalent section of the Contribution (provided, however, no such description is needed for tools that are used to improve spelling, grammar, general editing), and (c) Author and each Co-author is responsible for the accuracy of any information provided by any AIGC tool and for referencing any supporting work on which that information depends. The final decision about whether use of an AIGC tool is appropriate or permissible lies with the Journal's editor or other party responsible for the publication's editorial policy.

3. Notwithstanding acceptance, the Owner or Wiley is permitted to require changes to the Contribution, including changes to the length of the Contribution. In addition, the Owner or Wiley is permitted to elect not to publish the Contribution, and/or permitted to retract, withdraw or publish a correction or other notice for a Contribution accepted for publication, if for any reason, in the Owner's or Wiley's reasonable judgment, such publication would be inconsistent with the Core Practices and associated guidelines set forth by the Committee on Publication Ethics: <https://publicationethics.org/core-practices>) or would result in legal liability, violation of Wiley's ethical guidelines, or violation of journal ethical practices.
